Usability

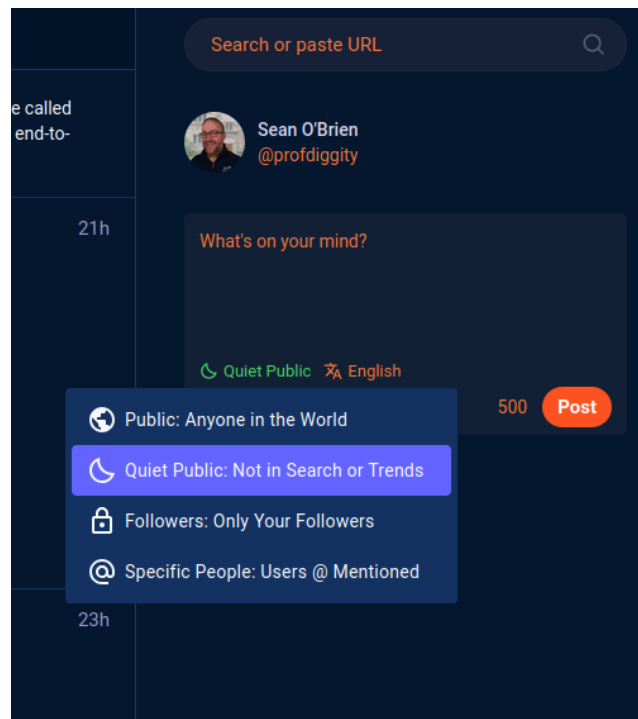

- Familiar look and feel, closer to Bluesky or Twitter X.
- Message publishing choices such as "Public: Anyone in the World" and "Followers Only"
- DMs are called "Direct Messages" replacing the confusing Mastodon term "Private Mentions"
- Live Feeds are one click away, without requiring an account.
- @HelpingHen is a friendly account that helps onboard and support users.
- Powerful full-text search, not just tags and usernames.

8 Simple Rules

 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Home Notifications Trending Live Feeds Direct Messages Bookmarks Favorites 	As of August 2025: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 1,092 domains can publish content to PrivacySafe Social. This number is approximate as servers go up and down. 26 domains (2.3% of total) have been suspended due to activity such as spam and repeated NSFW posts. 14 domains (1.2% of total) have been limited from posting to the public timeline. This prevents our audience of primarily English readers from being inundated with non-Latin characters. Our users can still follow accounts on those domains and share content from them. 9 users have been suspended for attempted attacks (malicious bot activity, attempted XSS injection, or penetration testing conducted on a live system without permission). 1 report was filed against a user for suspected spam activity. No moderation action was taken.
